Early Childhood Development & Health: The Intersections of Science, Policy, & Practice

Featuring National Presenters:

- Greg Duncan
  University of California, Irvine

- Donald Hernandez
  City University of New York

- Ann Masten
  University of Minnesota

- Deborah Phillips
  Georgetown University

- Carola Suarez-Orozco
  University of California, Los Angeles

- Lisa Sun-Hee Park
  University of Minnesota

- Jane Waldfogel
  Columbia University

- Hirokazu Yoshikawa
  New York University

This is a significant moment in the history of our scientific understanding and socio-political concern about early childhood development and health (ECDH). The RWJF Center for Health Policy at the University of New Mexico is therefore convening national and local researchers, practitioners, and policy makers to address a series of questions intended to provide insights on how to improve ECDH outcomes in New Mexico. Collectively the speakers will seek to strengthen connections between several domains – between understandings of development and health; between local, national and global early childhood policy initiatives; between science/scholarship, practice, and policy.

April 23-24, 2015
Sheraton Uptown | Albuquerque, NM